

University campuses are major commuting poles causing the emission of tonnes of CO2 every year. At the same time, they are outstanding places for changing future generations' mobility practices towards a more sustainable behaviour.

Is your university committed to sustainable mobility in your territory?

WHAT IS U-MOB LIFE?

U-MOB is a project funded by the LIFE programme from the European Commission, aimed at the creation of a university network to facilitate the exchange and transfer of knowledge about sustainable mobility best practices among universities. This network will serve as a tool towards the reduction of CO2 emissions caused by university community travel habits, aiming at reducing climate impacts and fostering efficiency, competitiveness and social integration.

DURATION

5 years. 01/07/2016 – 30/06/2021.

PARTNERSHIP

6 partners from 4 European countries || 4 universities – 1 consultancy - 1 foundation.

OBJECTIVES

- 🎯 Raise awareness about the need of reducing CO2 emissions during and after the project.
- 🎯 Define, implement and disseminate Mobility Best Practices in European campuses.
